

The income statement should be adjusted to reflect that the $45,506 for road repair should be capitalized, the $26,863 for water repair should be capitalized and the $8,531 for the water pump should be capitalized. Under normal circumstances, those would be added to rate base. However, since the Company is not seeking a return on rate base, those matters should simply be removed from current expense.